

CURRICULUM VITAE di Silvia Mattiacci

First level university degree in Latin Literature with Prof. A. Ronconi, Univ. of Florence, 1977-78 (final mark of 110/110 cum laude).

Ph.D. in Greek and Latin Philology , Prof. A. La Penna supervisor, 1983-87.

Confirmed teacher of Greek and Latin Literature in the secondary schools of Florence and Prato from 1987 to 1991.

Researcher of Latin Language and Literature in the Dpt. of Theory and Documentation of Cultural Traditions of the Univ. of Siena, from 1991 to 2002.

Associate professor of Latin Language and Literature in the same Dpt. as above (01/10/ 2002-31/12/2012) and in the Dpt. of Philology and Critic of the Ancient and Modern Literatures of the Univ. of Siena since 01/01/2013.

Member of the guiding council for the “Literatures of Italy and Europe” course of study (2003-06 and 2007-09).

President of the guiding council for the “Literatures of Italy and Europe” course of study (2005-06).

Member of the guiding council for the “History, sources and texts. From antiquity to contemporary” course of study (2008-11).

ASN 2012-13: Professor of I level in Latin Language and Literature (10/D3).

ASN 2016-18: Professor of I level in Latin Language and Literature (10/D3)

Partecipation in PhD courses:

- PhD in "Greek and Latin Philology", Univ. of Florence (2006-10).
- PhD in “Philologies and Linguistics” curric. “Greek and Latin Philology”, Univ. of Florence (2011-12).
- PhD in “Sciences of Antiquity and Archeology” (‘Pegaso’ Project) (2012-23).

Visiting Scholar at the Faculty of Classics of Cambridge University (19/08/2012 - 8/09/2012).

Member of the board of the Florentine section of the “Italian Association of Classical Culture”.

Subjet of biographical record in "Who's Who in the World" (XXI edition, 2004).

Collaboration as referee to classical philological journals: “Prometheus”; “Studi Italiani di Filologia Classica”; “Paideia”.